Italian-made nitro engines are some of the highest performance power plants available. And now, thanks to Losi, you can take your race vehicle to another level with new Mario Rossi-Tuned GRP race engines. Designed and built to exacting specifications, GRP Racing Engines offer unsurpassed power and reliability, lap after lap and race after race. And utilizing tuning expertise from internationally renowned engine expert Mario Rossi, every engine offers unbeatable throttle response, torque and power.

GRP Engines are offered in North America exclusively through Losi, a division of Horizon Hobby.
